

Research Months - guidelines

The Swedish Cancer Society, organization number 802005-3370, 101 55 Stockholm, is the body responsible for the collection and processing of personal data in connection with grant applications.

Information regarding the Fenix grant application system

The Swedish Cancer Society has a digital grant application system called Fenix. Fenix uses BankID and Swedish social security numbers for both identification and signing. The application is signed digitally by both the Head of Department and the applicant directly in Fenix. Applicants sign the application last, i.e. after the Head of Department has signed.

Note that if you make changes to the application after sending it to the Head of Department for signing, you must send a new request for signing by your Head of Department, as the application has changed. This applies regardless of what changes have been made.

The signing deadline for applicants in Fenix is 2nd May 2022, at 3pm.

Objectives

Grants for Research Months are intended to provide the opportunity for cancer researchers with clinical positions within the medical, healthcare, social and behavioral science professions to set aside time for research. After the allocation of Research Months, the remaining clinical activities shall amount to at least 50% of full-time employment at a Swedish healthcare facility or equivalent. Applications are welcomed from researchers in many different fields such as medicine, healthcare, natural sciences, technology, social sciences, public health sciences, behavioral and communication sciences.

The aims and rationale for what will be achieved during the research period and the applicant's role in the project must be clearly stated in the application.

The grant is to cover the researcher's salary during the grant period.

Eligibility

The Swedish Cancer Society pays research grants only to Swedish educational institutions.

Research Months can be applied for by clinically active doctoral researchers with documented research experience.

Professors or lecturers with university positions are not eligible for Research Months for clinically active persons.

Grant period

Research Months are a grant towards the researcher's salary for one to three months per year. Applications can be made for a maximum of three years at a time. The grant period is usually January 1 - December 31, and the period of performance is the same as the grant period.

Size of grants

Grants in the Research Months category are standardized. The current standard is, which includes holiday allowances and salary costs. The grant also includes supplements for indirect costs. The actual salary of the grant holder is determined by the employer.

Administrative authority

The Swedish Cancer Society pays research grants only to Swedish educational institutions.

The Swedish Cancer Society allows deductions for indirect costs up to a maximum of 15.25 percent of the grant. In the application, indirect costs must be included as operating expenses in the amount applied for.

When signing and confirming the application, the Head of Department guarantees co-financing of the project if the above deductions prove to be insufficient.

Basis of assessment

Qualifications

Qualifications must be included in the Fenix application. You need to fill in your qualifications in every application you want to apply for.

Research program

The research program may comprise a maximum of ten pages including references (12pt, single line spacing, 2.5 cm margin).

The research program may be written in English.

The following outline is recommended for the research program:

Specific objectives	A brief account of the aim of the proposed research work.
Background	Summary of your own and others' results in the research area.
Work plan and preliminary results	Detailed description of hypotheses and planned work. The work plan should also include a methodological description where it is made clear that current technology/methodology, including statistical considerations, power analysis, etc., is in place and mastered, or is otherwise available for the project in question. Preliminary results are of great importance when applying for grants for new projects.

Significance	Brief account of the expected importance for cancer research.
Litteratur references	Author, title of work, publication name, volume, page, year of publication. Include only the essential references.

Applicant's role

Describe the applicant's role in the project in detail, for example:

- Is the applicant considered to be the principal of the project?
- Is the applicant considered important for networks within or between projects?
- Is the applicant at an early stage of the project important for building collaborative structures?

Cancer relevance

According to the Swedish Cancer Society's statutes, the society shall "support, organize and coordinate cancer research ...". In the application form there is a special field where the applicant must explain and justify the cancer relevance.
